MAKE IN INDIA DRIVE – FDI V/S DAVID RICARDO'S COMPARATIVE COST THEORY.

Prof. Kachhela Teena
M.com(Accounts), UGC-NET, SET (Mah), M.A (Eco), Assistant Professor,
J.W. Sadhubella Girls College.

ABSTRACT

This paper focuses on the interrelationship between the make in India policy adopted by Government of India and Ricardo's theory of International trade. The initiative taken impacted 25 sectors which directly indirectly affected overseas transactions. Anything which will potentially impact foreign business of India after the earlier biggest step taken by GOI of making liberal economy in 1991 by Mr.NarsimhaRao will be Make in India drive. Since the launch of "Make in India" initiative, FDI inflow increased by 48% leaving India as a top destination for FDI.

The drive makes India a vibrant market for other countries to enter with their financial resources as already entities from several countries such as Japan, China, France and South Korea announced their intention to invest in India in various industrial and infrastructure projects. As the initiative focuses on manufacturing in India through foreign investment but it ignores the other aspect introduced initially by Adam Smith then David Ricardo of Comparative advantage theory. The theory puts light on the gains pocketed from trade by any country from other country's lower cost produced good.

KEYWORDS : Make in India drive, FDI, Comparative cost theory.

INTRODUCTION :

Cost comparative theory is developed by a classical economist David Ricardo. According to this theory, the international trade between two countries is possible only if each of them has absolute or comparative cost advantage in the production of at least one commodity. On the other hand Make in India drive make other countries to focus the production in India. India is a labour intensive economy gradually moving towards the capital intensive but still as Ricardo's theory says each country exports the commodity in which it has cost advantage and imports the commodity in which it has cost disadvantage, so will it be possible to produce every commodity in Indian economy because the country is still lacking behind in some aspects viz., infrastructure, sophisticated technology, transportation system, communication and power supply. The production in India will be possible only if cost of producing the goods will be lower but because of various lacunas and scarcity of resources in india, it creates much hurdles in manufacturing idea.

SKILL DEVELOPMENT INITIATIVE BY CORPORATE SECTOR

Sonam Kotwani

Astt. Professor, J.W. Sadhubella Girls College, Ulhasnagar.

ABSTRACT

India is one of the few countries in the world where the age population is maximum found in youth between the ages of 20- 35 years. In recognition to this the Government has adopted the skill development as national priority over the next 10 years. The National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) was formed by leading industry and the Government as public partnership to catalyze and enhance the role of corporate and public sector in skill development. Our Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, in his Independence Day (2014) speech also stressed that, 'Today our country needs skilled work force. If we have to promote the development of our country then our Mission has to be skill development and 'skilled India'. In this context, the present paper studies and analyses the status of skill development in collaboration with the Barclays Bank and thereby focuses on the vocational training given to the youth through retail outlet programme. The study is based on primary as well as secondary data carried out at J.W.Sadhubella College, Ulhasnagar on retail outlet in association with the Barclays Bank.

The Employees State Insurance Corporation in its 170th meeting held on 03.12.2016, has approved a Scheme to promote registration of Establishment / Factories and employees coverable under the ESI Act. 1948.

The ESI Scheme is one of the premier Schemes launched in the independent India, with an objective to provide Social Security to the workforce in the country, which has now become part of life for millions. Employees State Insurance Corporation has been striving hard to evolve itself to serve India's workforce with utmost efficiency, keeping pace with time and technology, relentlessly trying to narrow down the digital divide and bringing in health reform initiatives under 2nd Generation Reforms, titled as "ESIC 2.0".

The employers are required to register the Factory / Establishment under the ESI Act within 15 days (Regulation 10-b) after the Act becomes applicable to the unit and also required to register their employees immediately. The principal employer shall pay the employees' and employer's contribution (Section 40). Damages are recoverable for non-payment of any dues in time (Regulation 31C). Provisions for punishment for failure to pay contribution are defined under Section 85(a) to (g) of the Act. Section 85 B provides power to recover damages as an arrear of land revenue.

A onetime drive, is intended to extend the social security benefits to all-eligible under the Act, who have till now been kept out of the ESI coverage, and is open for the period w.e.f. 20th Dec. 2016 to 30th June 2017.

All the employer / employees are encouraged to use this opportunity & ensure that all the units / employees coverable under the ESI Act. are registered availing the one time benefits of the Scheme.

It is advisable that eligible employers should take the advantage of this amnesty scheme.
